

Industrialism in Global and Historical Context

Saturday, 16 May 2009
OSU Marion

Core Theme: From Farm to Factory

Presenter: W. Russ Coil, Ph.D.

Dr. Coil will help us to explore the American industrial revolution in the 19th and 20th centuries in the context of developments around the world. The readings help to get one thinking about a global approach to US history in general.

Response to Readings:

Respond in one to two pages to the themes and ideas about the global context of US history that stand out to you from these readings, lesson plans, etc., and what are some ideas from these readings or inspired by them that you can adapt to your classroom teaching?

Assigned Reading: Carl Guarneri and James Davis, editors. Teaching American History in a Global Context. Armonk, NY: M. E. Sharp, 2008

Read the Following:

The essays in Part II: Widening the Horizons of American History, pp. 23-89

Read samples of the material in Part III: Teaching American History in a Global Context

Look at Syllabi, Lesson Plans, and other selections that deal with topics and time periods you teach.