

Source A: LETTERS FROM VIETNAM

Tim "t-bomb" Driscoll's "There Really is a War"

A Marine's thoughts and feelings on the beginnings of his tour in Vietnam.

Gary Canant's "Dear Maxie"

"This is not a tale of anything heroic or grand. It is a story of survival, boredom, fear, loneliness, hope, and personal triumph.... It was about being in a strange place, halfway around the world.... It was a time for staying alive instead of dying...."

Stanley Homiski's "A Letter To My Wife"

The worst day ever lived by a 25th Infantry Div. RTO.

Paul O'Connell's "Letters Home"

A "grunt's" thoughts of war then and "looking back" now.

Larry Jackson's "Last Letter Home"

Other Sources:

NPR: An Oral History☺

<http://www.npr.org/templates/story/story.php?storyId=4165188>

<http://www.vietvet.org/thepast.htm>